Starkville financial advisor named to Forbes list

SDN STAFF REPORT

A local financial advisor recently received a prestigious honor from a prominent business publication.

Lauren Black, a certi-

Black

fied financial planner and advisor at Phillips Financial and Raymond James Financial Services, was named to the inaugural Forbes list of "America's Top-Next Generation Wealth Advisors," which ranks thousands of advisors with a minimum of four years experience.

The list was released online on July 25.

"It's a tremendous honor to be recognized as one of the top next-generation wealth advisors," Black said. "I'm excited to be in the company of such an elite group."

The list was developed by Shook Research and is based on an algorithm of qualitative and quantitative data, rating thousands of advisors and weighing factors like telephone and in-person interviews, client retention, industry experience, credentials, review of compliance records, firm nominations and quantitative criteria.

HISTORY MYSTERY

Who are these kids and what are they up to? For a hint, children usually attend these for at least one week during the summer. If you know, email editor@starkvilledailynews.com.
